It has been customary for the Auxiliary to have Wednesday night set aside as Travelers Night, and we understand the committee is preparing for a most enjoyable time at the coming meeting. The baseball team, which was organized four years ago, is arranging to play a match game, and, as in previous years, this will be played on Thursday afternoon. Harry F. Stearns, president, of Fitzpatrick & Draper, is the distributor of the F. & D. Cigar. Mr. Stearns has made this weed so popular with the drug trade of New York State and the Auxiliary that that body have dedicated a song to this famous piece of tobacco. It was Kipling who said A woman is only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke Some of the members think that he referred to the F. & D. cigar. Robert E. Service, the papa of the Association, is the vice-president and organizer. Has a number of investments in New York City and Staten Island, and he introduced himself to the drug trade of New York State when he was carrying the John M. Maris & Co. line of sundries. Later he was associated with Lazell Dalley & Co. R. V. DePuy. secretary and treasurer, is a purveyor of sweet things to interest the matinee girls. He is an ideal convention man, as he is always in evidence and has a way of attracting attention both to himself and Samoset line of chocolates. L. E. Treat, who has orders for antiseptic gauze, plasters, etc., bearing the Johnson & Johnson red cross, thrust upon him. has been covering New York State so long that the stockholders of the New York Central look to him for their dividends. He hails from the...
