

The Power of the Transformation Process

Melvin Scott Norris

Romans 12 focuses on the transformation process that a new convert to Christianity must go through to understand what the Christian walk is about. The renewing of the mind is important because as Christians we are to live a life of service and not selfishness. The transformative process by the renewing of the mind assists in helping Christians transform into servants by realizing that the gifts given to them by God are to serve humanity and not themselves as individuals. This book talks about the process that the author went through to develop the servants mindset.
